

Notes on Contributors

(NO INITIALS) are reviews written by The Horn Book Magazine or Guide staff.

(LA) Lauren Adams teaches English at Brookline High School in Massachusetts and is a former senior editor of The Horn Book Magazine.

(SRA) Sethany Rancier Alongi is an editor with an educational publisher in Cambridge, Massachusetts. She holds an MEd in elementary education from Lesley University and a certificate in children's writing from Emerson College.

(TDA) A former middle school teacher, Tanya Auger holds a master's degree in learning and teaching from the Harvard Graduate School of Education.

(B. BADER) Barbara Bader has frequently written for The Horn Book Magazine on picture books, multicultural literature, and folklore.

(DFB) Deirdre F. Baker reviews children's books for the Toronto Star and teaches children's literature at the University of Toronto.

(HRB) Hannah Rodgers Barnaby holds an MA in children's literature from Simmons College and an MFA in writing for children and young adults from Vermont College. Formerly a children's book editor at Houghton Mifflin, she has also worked as a bookseller and a writing instructor.

(BB) Barbara Barstow is the former youth services manager for the Cuyahoga County Public Library in Cleveland, Ohio. She has chaired both the Newbery and Caldecott award committees.

(ACB) Aimee Chevrette Bear holds a master's degree from the National Centre for Research in Children's Literature at Roehampton University in London. She is a graduate of Simmons College and has worked in publishing for several years. She currently lives in the Boston area.

(JLB) J. L. Bell maintains the Boston 1775 website (www.boston1775.net) about the history of the American Revolution in New England and writes for readers of all ages.

(AB) Amy Lee Bennett holds an MA/MFA from Simmons College. She has taught children's literature and writing in the Boston area and is continuing her graduate studies at Boston University.

(NB) Nell Beram is a longtime Horn Book Guide reviewer and a frequent contributor to Brain, Child: The Magazine for Thinking Mothers.

(KLB) Katie Bircher is an editorial intern for The Horn Book Magazine and The Horn Book Guide.

(TB) T. Borregaard holds an MS in archaeology. She writes fiction and nonfiction educational books for children and teaches anthropology, archaeology, and ancient history. She lives in California where she is pursuing a PhD.

(FFB) Frieda F. Bostian is retired from the Virginia Tech English department, where she taught children's literature.

(JMB) Jennifer M. Brabander is senior editor of The Horn Book Magazine.

(MLB) Miriam Lang Budin is a children's librarian and storyteller at the Chappaqua Library in New York. She has served on the Newbery, Caldecott, and Anne Izard Storyteller's Choice award committees and is currently chairperson of the Ezra Jack Keats Award committee.

(ALB) Anita L. Burkam is a former associate editor of The Horn Book Magazine.

(PMC) Paula M. Cairo is the Lower School librarian at Friends Select School in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

(PC) Patty Campbell, a longtime young adult literature specialist, is coeditor with Marc Aronson of the anthology War Is... (Candlewick, 2008).

(BC) Betty Carter, a Horn Book Magazine reviewer, is professor emerita of children's and young adult literature in the School of Library and Information Studies at Texas Woman's University.

(LBC) Luther B. Clegg, professor emeritus of education at Texas Christian University, has taught children's literature and social studies methods for more than thirty years. He is the author of The Empty Schoolhouse: Memories of One-Room Texas Schools and coauthor of Celebrating Diversity: A Multicultural Resource.

(ALC) Amy L. Cohn teaches children's literature to graduate students at Lesley University. She is the compiler of the anthology From Sea to Shining Sea and coauthor, with Suzy Schmidt, of Abraham Lincoln (both Scholastic). She is currently working on an initiative with Scholastic Book Fairs encouraging booktalking in the nation's schools. She makes frequent author appearances at elementary schools.

(EJC) Ernie J. Cox is the teacher-librarian at St. Timothy's School (K–8) in Raleigh, N.C. He is currently serving on the American Association of School Librarians National Conference committee and is a member of the North Carolina Children's Book Award committee.

(GAD) GraceAnne Andreassi DeCandido is a reader, writer, and editor. She is a part-time lecturer in children's and young adult literature for Rutgers School of Communication, Information, and Library Studies Online.

(TLD) Tamara DePasquale holds a master's degree from the Center for the Study of Children's Literature at Simmons College and is the youth services librarian for the Eldredge Public Library in Chatham, Massachusetts.

(CHD) Claudia Harrington DeShay, education librarian at the University of Texas Southwestern Medical Center at Dallas, has worked as a consultant for schools and libraries and as a youth librarian in a large urban system. She holds a master's degree and a doctorate in library science from Texas Woman's University, where she has taught courses in children's and young adult literature.

(ME) Monica Edinger teaches fourth grade at the Dalton School in New York.

(SE) Vancouver author and critic Sarah Ellis teaches writing at Vermont College and is a Horn Book Magazine reviewer.

(DE) David Elzey is a student at Vermont College of Fine Arts working on an MFA in creative writing for children and young adults.

(RHF) Roxanne Hsu Feldman is the middle school librarian for the Dalton School in New York.

(LCF) Lisa Catherine Findlay is education director at a treatment program for juvenile offenders in Massachusetts. She was formerly an editor at Random House Children's Books and worked in the children's room at the New York Public Library.

(SF) Shoshana Flax is an editorial intern for The Horn Book Magazine and The Horn Book Guide.

(KF) Kitty Flynn is senior editor of The Horn Book Guide and online content editor for The Horn Book, Inc.

(DJF) Danielle J. Ford is an associate professor of science education at the University of Delaware and a Horn Book Magazine reviewer.

(JF) Author of Presenting Paul Zindel and of articles and book reviews for library publications, Jack Forman serves on several ALA committees and has held a variety of positions in public libraries. He is a reference and instructional librarian and the coordinator of public services at the San Diego Mesa College Library, part of the San Diego Community College District.

(SMG) A school library media specialist with a master's degree from the Graduate School of Library and Information Science at Simmons College, Sheila M. Geraty serves as a librarian at the Brookwood School in Manchester, Massachusetts. She also holds a master's degree in children's literature.

(ERG) Elissa Gershowitz is managing editor of The Horn Book Guide.

(MG) Melinda Greenblatt is Library Connections program director for the Archdiocese of New York. She previously worked on the Library Power project at New Visions for Public Schools. She serves on the advisory committee for Middle and Junior High School Catalog and the Children's Book Committee at Bank Street College of Education.

(CG) Claire Gross is assistant editor of The Horn Book Magazine and The Horn Book Guide.

(RLH) Rebecca Hachmyer received her MA in children's literature from Simmons College. She teaches middle school in Sonoma County, California.

(SH) A freelance children's book editor in the Boston area, Susan Halperin holds a master's degree from the Center for the Study of Children's Literature at Simmons College. She was previously an editor at Candlewick Press.

(BH) Betsy Hearne is professor emerita of children's literature in the Graduate School of Library and Information Science at the University of Illinois. She is also a reviewer, a critic, and the author of books for both adults and children.

(KEH) Katrina Hedeem is marketing and circulation assistant for The Horn Book, Inc.

(GBH) Gail Hedges teaches children's literature at Lesley University and other Boston-area colleges. She is the immediate past president of the Foundation for Children's Books.

(CMH) Christine Heppermann, a freelance writer and former children's bookseller based in Minnesota, is a reviewer for The Horn Book Magazine.

(PIH) Pearl Higgins, a former editorial intern at The Horn Book Magazine and The Horn Book Guide, holds an MA in children's literature from Simmons College.

(CH) Catherine Hughes is an editorial intern for The Horn Book Magazine and The Horn Book Guide.

(NLH) Nancy Hull reviews young adult novels for the Grand Rapids Press and teaches children's literature at Calvin College in Grand Rapids, Michigan.

(JH) Jonathan Hunt, a library media teacher at the Lakewood, Pearson, and Wilson elementary schools in Modesto, California, is a Horn Book Magazine reviewer.

(MLI) Megan Lynn Isaac, an associate professor at Elon University, teaches and writes about Shakespeare, children's literature, and young adult literature.

(KI) A former middle school teacher, Kathleen Isaacs teaches children's literature at Towson University in Maryland.

(CJ) Formerly a trade book editor, children's and young adult librarian, and children's literature consultant, Cyrisse Jaffee is associate manager, editorial content, in the Educational Outreach department of WGBH. She holds an MLS from Simmons College and reviews children's books for several publications.

(MLJ) Marika Jeffery holds a master's degree in children's literature from Simmons College. She works as a freelance writer in San Diego.

(DK) Deborah Kaplan, review editor for the journal Transformative Works and Cultures, is a librarian and independent scholar. She holds an MS in library science and an MA from the Center for the Study of Children's Literature at Simmons College.

(AK) Former program specialist, Children's Services, for the Carnegie Library of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, Amy Kellman consults and teaches children's literature. She is a past president of the United States Board on Books for Young People and has served on the Batchelder, Caldecott, and Newbery award committees.

(JSK) Juliet S. King holds an EdM in language and literacy from the Harvard Graduate School of Education. She is a clinical instructor and professional-development consultant at the Stern Center for Language and Learning in Vermont. She has also worked as a special educator and children's bookseller.

(MVK) Maeve Visser Knoth is a children's librarian for the San Mateo (CA) County Library System and an adjunct faculty member at Lesley University. She is a former reviewer for The Horn Book Magazine.

(JRK) Jane Kohuth is a children's bookseller at the Wellesley Booksmith in Wellesley, MA. She holds a BA in English and creative writing from Brandeis University and an MA in theological studies from Harvard Divinity School. She has worked as an educator and a children's library assistant.

(SDL) Susan Dove Lempke is the children's services supervisor for the Niles Public Library District in Illinois and a Horn Book Magazine reviewer.

(BDL) Becky Levine is a writer and speaker living in California's Santa Cruz mountains. She is currently writing The Critiquer's Survival Guide (Writer's Digest Books).

(NL) Nina Lindsay, a children's collection management librarian at the Oakland Library in Oakland, California, chaired the 2008 Newbery Award committee.

(CAL) Cindy Lombardo is the main library administrator for the Cleveland Public Library. She has served on numerous selection committees for both ALSC and YALSA.

(JRL) Joanna Rudge Long is a reviewer for The Horn Book Magazine and a former editor of the young people's section of Kirkus Reviews.

(JLS) Jane López-Santillana is a children's librarian at the Seattle Public Library and teaches university and library workshops in children's literature, Spanish language materials for children, and bilingual library services.

(AMM) Amanda M. MacGregor, a graduate of the master's program in children's literature at Simmons College, has worked as a children's bookseller and librarian.

(LMM) Lauren Maggio, a graduate of the master's program in children's literature at the University of British Columbia and Simmons Graduate School of Library and Information Science, is the medical education librarian at Stanford University Medical Center.

(BTM) Bridget McCaffrey holds master's degrees in early childhood education and children's literature.

(AAM) Professor of education at Ohio Wesleyan University, Amy McClure is the author of Sunrises and Songs: Reading and Writing Poetry in an Elementary Classroom; Response Guides for Teaching Children's Books; and Books That Invite Talk, Wonder and Play with Language. She is also coauthor of the children's literature textbook Living Literature: Using Children's Literature to Support Reading and Language Arts.

(BLM) Beth L. Meister is the library media specialist at the Milwaukee Jewish Day School in Milwaukee, Wisconsin. She is a graduate of Mount Mary College and received her MLIS from the University of Wisconsin–Milwaukee.

(PJM) Pamela Mishkin is a writer and editor of secondary and higher education Spanish textbooks. Her teaching experience ranges from bilingual elementary education to college-level Spanish. She holds an MA in Spanish literature from the University of California, Santa Barbara, and lives in Miami, Florida.

(EJM) Betsy Murray holds an EdM in language and literacy from the Harvard Graduate School of Education and a BA in political science from UC Berkeley. She has worked as a children's bookseller, a second-grade teacher, and an elementary reading specialist. Currently she is the curriculum specialist at JJ Pickle Elementary School in Austin, Texas.

(MO) Maren Ostergard, early literacy and children's outreach librarian for the King County Library System, earned both her bachelor's degree in biology and her MLS from the University of Washington.

(MVP) Martha V. Parravano is executive editor of The Horn Book Magazine.

(R. PECK) Richard Peck's latest novel is On the Wings of Heroes (Dial).

(CP) Chelsey Philpot is editorial assistant of The Horn Book Guide.

(NCP) A former children's bookseller who holds a master's degree in English literature, Norah Piehl is a freelance writer and editor living in the Boston area.

(PR) Patricia Riley holds master's degrees in writing and children's literature. She has worked as a freelance writer and illustrator and has taught children's book writing at various continuing education programs in the Boston and Providence areas. Currently she lives outside Philadelphia.

(LR) Lolly Robinson is designer and production manager for The Horn Book, Inc. She teaches children's literature at the Harvard Graduate School of Education.

(ACS) Alissa C. Salamone is a special education preschool teacher with Arlington County Public Schools in Virginia. She holds a degree in bilingual elementary education from Texas Woman's University.

(M. SANTANGELO) Michael Santangelo is a librarian in the office of Material Selection at the Brooklyn Public Library.

(RES) Becca Schaffner is an editorial intern for The Horn Book Magazine and The Horn Book Guide.

(TS) Terri Schmitz is the owner of The Children's Book Shop in Brookline, Massachusetts.

(M. SCHRÖDER) Monika Schröder is the elementary school librarian for the American Embassy School in New Delhi, India.

(CLS) Carolyn Shute is a content research editor for an educational publisher. A freelance writer who has taught at the college level, she holds a master's degree in children's literature.

(MFS) For almost twelve years, Martha Sibert worked as children's coordinator for the Roanoke County Public Library in Virginia. She received her master's degree from the Simmons College Center for the Study of Children's Literature and is a freelance writer in Brookline, Massachusetts.

(HMS) Henrietta M. Smith is professor emerita on the faculty of the School of Library and Information Science, University of South Florida, in Tampa. She has served on the Caldecott, Coretta Scott King, Newbery, and Wilder award committees and is the editor of The Coretta Scott King Awards Book: From Vision to Reality; The Coretta Scott King Awards Book, 1970–1999; and The Coretta Scott King Awards Book, 1970–2004.

(RLS) Rachel L. Smith is marketing and circulation manager for The Horn Book, Inc.

(R. SMITH) Robin Smith teaches second grade at the Ensworth School in Nashville, Tennessee, and is a reviewer for The Horn Book Magazine.

(RSS) Rita Soltan worked in public libraries in New York and Michigan for more than thirty years. She holds BA and MLS degrees from Queens College of CUNY and an MAT in teaching reading and language arts from Oakland University in Rochester, Michigan. She is the author of Reading Raps: A Book Club Guide for Librarians, Kids and Families and Summer Reading Renaissance: An Interactive Exhibits Approach.

(MJS) Miriam Steinberg holds a master's degree in creative arts in learning and elementary education from Lesley University. She is director of the Jewish Graduate Student Network in Philadelphia.

(CHS) Carrie Harasimowicz Sullivan, formerly assistant editor of The Horn Book Guide, holds a master's degree in children's literature. She teaches English in Brunswick, Maine.

(RS) Roger Sutton is editor in chief of The Horn Book, Inc.

(BNT) Bethany Templeton holds an MLIS from the University of Iowa and is a children's librarian at the Needham Free Public Library in Massachusetts.

(AMT) Antonio Trujillo, a former test evaluator for an educational publisher, holds a degree in classics.

(TW) Tim Wadham, assistant director for youth and community services for the St. Louis County (MO) Library, earned his bachelor's degree in Spanish and has a PhD in comparative/children's literature. He is the author of Programming with Latino Children's Materials and Libros esenciales.

(RRW) Rebecca Reed Whidden works in technical services for the Memorial Library of Radnor Township in Radnor, Pennsylvania. She is a former children's bookseller and holds a master's degree in elementary education from Lesley University.

(LAW) Laura A. Woollett is an editor with an educational publisher in Cambridge, Massachusetts, and holds a master's degree in children's literature from Simmons College.

The Horn Book Guide Online

If you think these indexes are good,
you should see what we have online.

The Horn Book Guide Online gives you fast, intuitive access to more than 75,000 reviews from nearly twenty years of The Horn Book Guide.
Individual and multi-user subscriptions are available at highly competitive rates.

www.hornbookguide.com